Pure enlightenment

By Phyllis J. Martin

Please read this. As the saying goes, "The mind is like a parachute; it doesn't work if it isn't open." So, keep an open mind to learn and learn and learn. Whatever you can imagine is probably happening! This book and "The Hollow Earth" show that the Earth shelters people inside--oh, yes--it is not a hot, molten core. These great beings try to keep her stabilized. They have a central sun, oceans, and beautiful gardens. It's a wonderful, loving place with an enormous library. I believe one day we'll get to see it! (Naw, they aren't sending the looney-bin van to pick me up at my door. I came a long way to get myself into an acceptance of these ideas, but by golly, I'm there and grateful for it. And grateful there are more and more who are making these discoveries.) We live in interesting times--tighten your "seat belts".
